I've been in Australia for 2 years as working holiday. I expected my English skills are improved during this 2 years but I couldn't have enough time to study English properly. I understand only general conversation. Therefore, before I go back to Japan, I want to go to school to study English for improving my English skills more than now because I want to work in a hospitality industry using my English skills.

I can study English in Japan but studying English in Australia is the best because Australia is English country, so I have to speak English all day both into a class and outside class. So, I will be able to use what I studied in a day after class straight way. I think this environment make my English skills improve faster than studying in Japan. That's the reason for I choose Australia for my study.

I applied for enrolling to General English course at Panda English. I need to learn English from basic grammar first. Because during my working holiday period, I did only spoke and listened English, so I need to learn about writing techniques and I want to use to read an English books/paragraphs too. I visited few language schools for tour and try out a lesson before I decided to go Panda English. Then I decided to go to Panda English for my study, because staffs and teachers are very friendly and they support to all students well, so I thought that I can have a talk with teacher or staffs easily when I need. Also they have variety of activity class after main class. That's why I want to study General English at Panda English.

I was saving money for this chance about study English. My parents are happy to my decision and they are happy to support me if I need. I will back to Japan after finish the course and then I will apply job in a hospitality industry. I am looking forward to use English in my work in Japan. So I will study hard for my future career.
